CRITICIZED WILSON'S POLICY.

Rep. Frank W. Mondell Also Arraigned Secretary Bryan.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 30.—Describing the Mexican policy of the Wilson administration as the work of "amateurs, theorists, dreamers, acting on impulse when not on prejudice," Representative Frank W. Mondell of Wyoming, arraigned Secretary of State William J. Bryan in the course of an address at the McKinley day dinner of the Young Men's Republican Club here last night.

"The policy toward the government of Huerta in Mexico," said Mr. Mondell, "was allowed to drift into a state of aimless vacillation, while the present secretary of state traveled on lucrative lecture tours."

Other speakers were United States Senator Boise Penrose of Pennsylvania and Representative A. T. Treadway of Massachusetts.

NORTH MONTPELIER.

Sunday, Feb. 1, is "Everybody at Church Sunday" in many of our large cities and towns. Everybody, the young and the old, church-goers and non-church-goers, are asked to go to church on that day. "Give the church a square deal just one day in the year." In the state of Vermont the first Sunday in February is convention Sunday and calls for every loyal individual to lend a hand in the church service. A special program for the day is promised. Come one. Come all.

EAST MONTPELIER.

Harold Clark, who broke his leg three weeks ago, has so far recovered as to return to his studies at Goddard seminary this week.

Mrs. Dodge, grandmother of Mrs. Harry Vincent, 92 years old, is recovering from her severe illness.

"Everybody at Church Sunday," also convention Sunday next Sunday, Feb. 1. Everyone, young, old and middle-aged, are requested to go to church and lend a hand. A special program is planned for the day. Let us see you there.

Davis of Lyndonville, a former resident of Barre, and a member of the state board of pharmacy, has announced the granting of five certificates to druggists who passed the examinations recently conducted by the board at the State House in Montpelier. The successful applicants are as follows: Registered pharmacist, F. E. Libby of Rutland; Varden E. Lampman of Hyde Park, Mass.; assistant pharmacist certificates, Edgar T. Holden of Proctor, Geraldine Phil Hudson of Quechee, Arthur St. Pierre of North Cambridge, Mass. Another examination will not be held until next June.

Minor thefts in the Central Vermont freight yards continue to occur with increasing frequency. Only a few days ago, freight handlers went to a solitary box car not far from Granite street and discovered the loss of two muttons about a couple of hams. A search for the missing members from the cold storage ended fruitlessly and it was not until yesterday that Station Agent L. O. Morgan learned of their whereabouts. W. W. Calder of the firm of Calder & Richardson, went to one of the company's wood yards off Depot square and discovered the meat neatly tucked away in the wood. Having heard of the theft, he notified the agent and advised him to leave the lot in its niche at the wood yard until the thief should return for it. The agent, however, decided to take no chances on recovering the property and straightway transferred the mutton and hams to the freight station.

A delegation of nearly 100 Red Men, members of Iroquois tribe of this city, and others as many more from Wuchosen tribe, East Barre, will leave the city square on special cars to-night for Montpelier to attend the annual joint pow-wow of Iroquois, Wuchosen and Sioux lodges. Visiting Red Men will be the guests of the Montpelier lodge, although a committee made up of members from each tribe will have charge of the affair. A message received today from Great Sagamore E. O. Downs of Boston, announced his purpose to be present at to-night's gathering. Mr. Downs is at the head of all the Red Men in America. His speech is expected to be one of the features of the gathering. Past Sachem L. N. Eastman of Ashland, N. H., and F. E. Marshall of Beecher Falls, well known in the camp of the Red Men of Vermont, will be among the other speakers.

Everyone will want to buy a box Saturday at Fitts'.

A number of witnesses went this morning to Montpelier, where they were subpoenaed in the case against John Leclair, aged 16, who was arrested in this city Tuesday on a statutory charge. The hearing was set for probate court with Judge Frank J. Martin presiding. The respondent has retained Attorney John W. Gordon.

After eight witnesses had been heard, Judge F. J. Martin of probate court at Montpelier today sent John Leclair to the state industrial school at Vergennes for the remainder of his minority, which means six years. Leclair was charged with lewdness and unbecoming behavior. He was arrested by the Barre police and taken into Barre city court, after which he was turned over to Judge Martin when it was learned he was under 15 years of age.

The Shamrock basketball team left this forenoon for St. Johnsbury, where they will play the F. C. A. team to-night. Because of the inability of Manager Carroll to secure the services of two regulars, the team will present a lineup somewhat weakened. William Stuart was unable to take the trip as was Bartlett of Montpelier. "Pijo" Tomasi and Earl Smith were carried along to fill their positions. Paul Scampini accompanied the team.

Insurance adjusters representing the Vermont Mutual Co. of Montpelier appeared for the R. G. Robinson agency yesterday and conducted the adjustment of loss on the building on "the ledges," Brook street, which was partially destroyed by fire last week. The structure is owned by Michael Good, who stated last night that the adjustment was satisfactory to him. He said the little store, which was occupied by Daniel Roumanis at the time of the fire, was not wholly protected by insurance and that he stands to lose $200. He will rebuild in the early spring. So far as can be learned the adjustment on Mr. Roumanis' stock of groceries has not been adjusted.

Charles Preston, who was employed until recently as chef at the City hotel, left this forenoon for a two weeks' visit with relatives in Manchester and Concord, N. H. In the middle of February his native town, where he has secured a position in a hotel. Mr. Preston lost nearly all of his valuables in the fire which devastated the City hotel last Friday morning and had little time to lose in making good his escape. Until yesterday he has hoped that some of his possessions might be uncovered intact in the ruins, but a careful search of his sleeping quarters failed to unearth much that was valuable. A few of his clothes were salvaged and other trinkets of minor worth were also taken from the ruins.

NEAR DEATH IN VAULT OF MINT.

Victim Is Rescued in Unconscious Condition After Hours of Drilling.

Philadelphia, Jan. 30.—Accidentally locked in the air-tight gold vault in the basement of the United States mint yesterday when the heavy steel door fitted with a time lock closed behind him, Clyde M. Taylor, a clerk, was rescued in an unconscious condition by the aid of a big steam drill after other employees had spent more than an hour with small drills, trying to make a hole through the steel tumblers.
